

Casco Architects

CASCO Architects, based in St. Louis, Mo., and this year's Retail Architecture Firm award winner, is "a leader in developing plans and specifications wherever I have worked," according to David Handera, vice president, design and construction for Charming Shoppes, Inc., in Bensalem, Pa., who nominated the firm for this honor. "They are quick to respond and provide alternatives for owners to choose from." In addition to its architecture services, CASCO also offers full in-house professional development services including project management, structural, mechanical, electrical, and civil engineering. The firm has four branch offices located in Texas, California, New Jersey, and Georgia.

Dan Cutter, left, and Phyllis Caesar of CASCO Architects accept the award that was presented to the firm.
